Potential for Redisclosure: Once your health information has been disclosed, the law does not always require the receiver of your information to keep it confidential.

Revocation: This authorization may be revoked by submitting a request in writing to:

UW Medicine Privacy Office
Box 359210
Seattle, WA 98195

Note: A request to revoke this authorization will not affect any actions already taken based on the original authorization, or prevent UW Medicine from requiring the information in order to be paid for treatment that you receive.

I understand I have the right to:

- Inspect or to receive a copy of my protected health information
- Receive a copy of this signed form
- Refuse to sign this form for authorization to disclose or release my protected health information

I also understand UW Medicine will not base treatment or payment decisions on receipt of this signed authorization, except in these cases: (1) UW Medicine may condition research-related treatment on my signing or my providing an authorization for the use or disclosure of my information for such research; or (2) UW Medicine may condition the provision of health care that is just for the purpose of creating health information for disclosure to a third party on my signing or my providing an authorization for the disclosure of the health information to such third party. An example of this is when a non-UW employer contracts with UW Medicine to conduct TB testing for purposes of employee health screening.
